1. All beings fair and beautiful,
All creatures soft and nice.
Animals cute and wonderful,
The Queen protects 'em alike.

2. Her leadership's victorious
She rules with might and pride
And though we are mischievous she casts our woes aside

3. All beasts crude, precarious,
All brutes clawed and bleak
All things – squat and hazardous,
Her Majesty thinks them meek.

4. The Queen likes their horrid wings,
She lets them roam around as pleased.
She adores their deadly stings,
and never lets them be teased.

5. But people kind and comely, everyone benign and bright.
Men superb and women lovely -
Queen loves them, day and night.

6. She does her best to grant them a warm hearth and peaceful home
And those who dare to threaten
She never will condone

7. All people dull and dirty, each person, a gawk or a clot.
All people rude and nasty
The Queen protects the lot.

8. No matter what a man has done,
No matter what the sins of a man
She is always the only one whose mercy will forever stand

9. But who gives council to our Queen
Who comforts our majestic lady Alas, it's He who shan't be seen the Lord keeps her from fading

Thank you for listening!
