

Ode to the Queen

by: Ole Loigu, Joosep Laht and Sten Uustalu

Today,
We honor the fairest of maidens, even when all others to the past have faded the Queen of Commonwealth never shall be forgotten, even a museum dedicated to her dresses of cotton,

Righteous and virtuosos to the end of her reign, the true glory of Great Britain shall always prevail, the sole heir of the British Empire with a vigorous campaign.

Queen Elizabeth II, never described as mundane

Elizabeth II, a woman with a glorious reign Significantly contributed to her realm's gain Her allegiance to her nation,
And her lifelong dedication

A Queen who always strives to be keen As those before her have been,
Her goal of keeping the country safe and sound Lest all we've built up comes crashing down,

With Prince Harry by her side,
The Royal Family as one shall turn up the tide, Commonwealth realms united as one,
A feat of excellence that she has done,

May her age long be on the throne,
No woman in the world shall be better known,
Be a bridge to an age that's long gone,
She that her subject depend on.
